About ICONN 2008

Following on from the highly successful ICONN 2006 Conference which attracted 460 delegates, the event in 2008 will once again bring together the Australian and International community working in the field of nanoscale science and technology to discuss new and exciting advances in the field.

The ICONN Conference is the most significant Nanotechnology Event held in Australia focused on this important field of Scientific research. The conference attracts scientists and engineers from academia, government and private laboratories, students and researchers, and importantly the industry that can commercialise this research.

This year the stream dedicated to commercialisation of nanotechnology will feature case studies by start-up companies; how to take a product from discovery to market; capital raising; IP; regulatory issues; and more. It is also intended to offer the facility for business matching to delegates and industry participants.

The Conference host organisations are committed to ensuring that the highest calibre of plenary and symposium speakers attend this meeting, and have already confirmed participation of seven outstanding international speakers as outlined later in this document.

We understand sponsors are looking for return on their investment. Both the marketing campaign and the on-site elements of the enclosed Sponsorship packages recognise this and are structured to assist you meet your marketing objectives. The potential of nanotechnology is such that those who invest now will reap the benefits in the future.

Co-Chairs

About the host bodies

Australian Research Council Nanotechnology Network (ARCNN)

www.ausnano.net

Nanotechnology is one of the fastest growing areas of research and technology. The ARCNN is dedicated to substantially enhancing Australia's research outcomes in this important field by promoting effective collaborations, exposing researchers to alternative and complementary approaches from other fields, encouraging forums for postgraduate students and early career researchers, increasing nanotechnology infrastructure, enhancing awareness of existing infrastructure, and promoting international links. ICONN 2008 is the major forum designed to achieve these goals.

Australian Nano Business Forum (ANBF)

www.anbf.com.au

The ANBF is the peak national body representing and promoting Australian industries and companies involved in nanotechnology, both domestically and internationally. The ANBF provides a collective voice for member organisations engaged in this emerging technology, as well as facilitating links between other key stakeholders such as government, funding, regulatory and research entities. Other roles undertaken by the ANBF include:

- provide a mechanism for industry development incorporating nanotechnology companies, their suppliers and customers
- facilitate linkages between industry and research communities
- work to increase the uptake of nanotechnology by industry
- build confidence in nanotechnology in the investor community
- deliver a range of member services including commercialisation support, education and training, and advocacy to Government.

Department of Innovation, Industry and Regional Development, Government of Victoria (DIIRD)

www.business.vic.gov.au/nano

The Victorian Government is a proud co-host of the ICONN 2008 Conference. Nanotechnology is one of the fastest growing areas of investment in research and development and it will be a key enabler for industry growth over the coming decades. Over the past eight years the Victorian Government has actively assisted in building a strong capability base in Melbourne by investing nearly $280 million in nanotechnology-related projects and infrastructure. This includes support for essential industry networking organisations and world-leading industry R&D clusters as well as Australia's largest piece of science infrastructure to be built in two generations -the Australian Synchrotron.

Why Sponsor or Exhibit?

ICONN 2008 provides a unique environment dedicated to bringing together international and national experts to address a variety of topics of significant interest in nanotechnology science and research, and their application to industry.

Sponsorship provides an excellent opportunity to promote your organisation, support your brand(s) and to maintain a high profile within the field of nanotechnology before, during and after the event.

- We will have many of the world's leading scientists at the event. They are buyers and referrers but importantly they are discoverers who will need commercial partners to turn research into reality.
- We will have many of Australia's upcoming students and postgraduate researchers at the event - the future of nanotechnology.
- We will have representation from major Australian universities, research centres and industry.
- Your organisation will be openly and prominently demonstrating its commitment to and active support for nanotechnology in Australia, Asia and overseas.
- Your representatives can network with delegates to update their knowledge and understanding of your products and services in an environment where they are open to listening and learning.
- Sponsorship is the most cost effective way to reach this group who will be targeted via a comprehensive promotional campaign.
- This conference would also be an excellent forum for launching a new product or service.

Early confirmation of your sponsorship will ensure the highest level of exposure. An extensive promotional campaign including advertisements, direct mail campaigns, email broadcasts and web exposure will be implemented in the lead up to the conference and the opportunity exists for your company to be represented as a key supporter.

We will work with all sponsors to repay your investment. The packages mentioned in this document are thought starters and we are happy to tailor make something that suits your specific requirements.
